

a dynamic approach to community development by providing high quality skills training to low-income and unemployed workers, and at the same time building strong relationships with Chicago-area manufacturers to provide JARC graduates with well paying jobs. As a result, Chicago neighborhoods and businesses have been strengthened and low-wage earners and the unemployed have found self-sufficiency and hope.

Madam Speaker, in the midst of economic turmoil and the worst recession since the 1930s, the Jane Addams Resource Center has been a beacon of hope and help for the people who need it most. In the last year alone, 1,191 low-wage workers received employer-based manufacturing skills training with a completion rate of 99%, 25 previously unemployed individuals were trained and placed in full-time jobs with an average hourly wage of over $13.00, and in just the past 6 weeks, 7 trainees were placed in jobs. In working to improve Chicago's neighborhoods and provide valuable training to low-wage workers and the unemployed, the JARC has emerged as a unifying and beneficial force in the Chicagoland area, and I thank them for their 24 years of exceptional service to Chicago's communities and citizens.
